Copy of a letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Erw-wen, near Harlerh, Merionethehire

To Professor Holloway:

Sin—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that for a very long period I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and hequent awhenings in the bead, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health: Every means that failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length I became so alarming that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this metancholy consistent without an attendant. In this metancholy consistent is made and the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear leatimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,
